Chapter I

Instructions

The foreword is not an exercise. It will not be graded. The exercises start at the next chapter, from the easiest contract to the hardest. A later exercise is not taken into account if an earlier one does not hold.

Only what is in the turn-in directory of an exercise is looked at. Do not add files that the exercise does not name. The name of a deliverable follows the pattern in the exercise: `Name_FirstName_DeliverableName_Date_VersionNumber`.

You will not be given the gesture. The examples in an exercise sometimes carry a constraint that the sentence does not repeat. Read them. Your other references are the manual of the tool you picked, the person sitting next to you, and the links printed in the exercise.

The order is the order of the quest. Skipping a step because a later screen looks more interesting produces a screen nobody can explain.

About the pictures

The mark on the cover is the project logo. The picture in the foreword is the illustration of this module. The pale ground behind the text is the page watermark. None of them is a hint.

About machines that write

You may use a tool to look up a term, the way you would use a dictionary. You may not replace an interview, a test, or a file with a generated text and sign it. If you cannot point at the person, the screen, or the line you claim, the exercise is not done.

Chapter II

Foreword

Josef Albers spent a book showing that a color is not a chip, it is what the neighbor does to it (Interaction of Color, Yale University Press, 1963). Johannes Itten had already made the same point with paper at the Bauhaus. The challenges that follow are timed drawings. Albers does not paint them for you.
